

Production and dissemination

ENTPE disseminates its research in 8 ways:

- exploitation of inventions (patents),
- Industrial contracts and contracts with public authorities using the knowledge and know-how of the laboratories,
- software design and publication,
- drafting and publication of technical documents,
- participating in exchanges between the scientific world and society in general,
- organization of technical days for professionals,
- training for professionals in the tools and methods produced by the laboratories,
- involvement in exemplary experimental operations.
